Agricultural Law Symposium

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

October 6-8, 2016

For 37 years, the American Agricultural Law Association has been growing professionalism in agricultural law and hosting its Annual Agricultural Law Symposium. Each year, this event brings together national and regional legal and policy experts to address the cutting edge issues in agriculture, natural resources, water, food, environmental and agribusiness law. This Symposium provides opportunities to meet and connect with over 250 attendees from across the country representing corporate, private practice, academic, nonprofit, commodity groups and government sectors, while also providing unique law student experiences and 12-14 hours of CLE credit. AALA invites you to consider the benefits of being a Symposium Sponsor in 2016.
