

Megan J. Provost

Vice President of Policy and Programs

Farm Foundation

Megan Provost joined the Farm Foundation staff in October 2017 as the Vice President of Policy and Programs. There, Megan leads all of the Foundation's programming, convening leaders with diverse perspectives to understand evolving issues and the consequences of options to address those issues. Farm Foundation is an agricultural policy institute cultivating dynamic, non-partisan collaboration to meet society's needs for food, fiber, feed, and energy. Since 1933, it has connected leaders in farming, business, academia, organizations, and government through proactive, rigorous debate and objective issue analysis.

Megan previously served as U.S. Government Affairs Manager for Dow AgroSciences, an Agricultural Division of Dow-DuPont, working with state and federal legislators, regulators, and food chain allies. Prior to joining Dow AgroSciences, Megan served as a legislative assistant for Sen. Richard Lugar, (R-Ind.); served as special assistant to the administrator at USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service; and was an economist at the American Farm Bureau Association.

Megan grew up on a farm in central Indiana and is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in agribusiness and a Master of Science degree in agricultural economics. She also holds a Juris Doctorate from the George Washington University Law School.
